

MOTOR VEHICLES

VEHICLE REGISTRATIONS

The annual vehicle registration date varies among the States. Two States use the calendar year for registering all vehicles. Nine States use the calendar year for registering trucks only. Fifteen States register only their automobiles on a "staggered" basis, and 21 register all of their vehicles in this manner. The "staggered" system permits a distribution of the renewal workload throughout all months. Most States allow preregistration or permit "grace periods" to better distribute the annual registration workload.

In order to present vehicle registration data uniformly for all States, the information is shown as nearly as possible on a calendar-year basis. Insofar as possible, the registrations reported exclude transfers and reregistrations and any other factors that could otherwise result in duplication in the vehicle counts.

Registration practices for commercial vehicles differ greatly among the States. Some States register a tractor-semitrailer combination as a single unit; others register the tractor and the semitrailer separately. Regardless of how they were registered, only the power units have been included in the truck count in table MV-1. Some States register buses with trucks or automobiles; many States do not report house and light utility trailers separately from commercial trailers or semitrailers; and some States do not require registration of car or light utility trailers. In some instances, the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) has supplemented the data supplied by the States with information obtained from other sources.

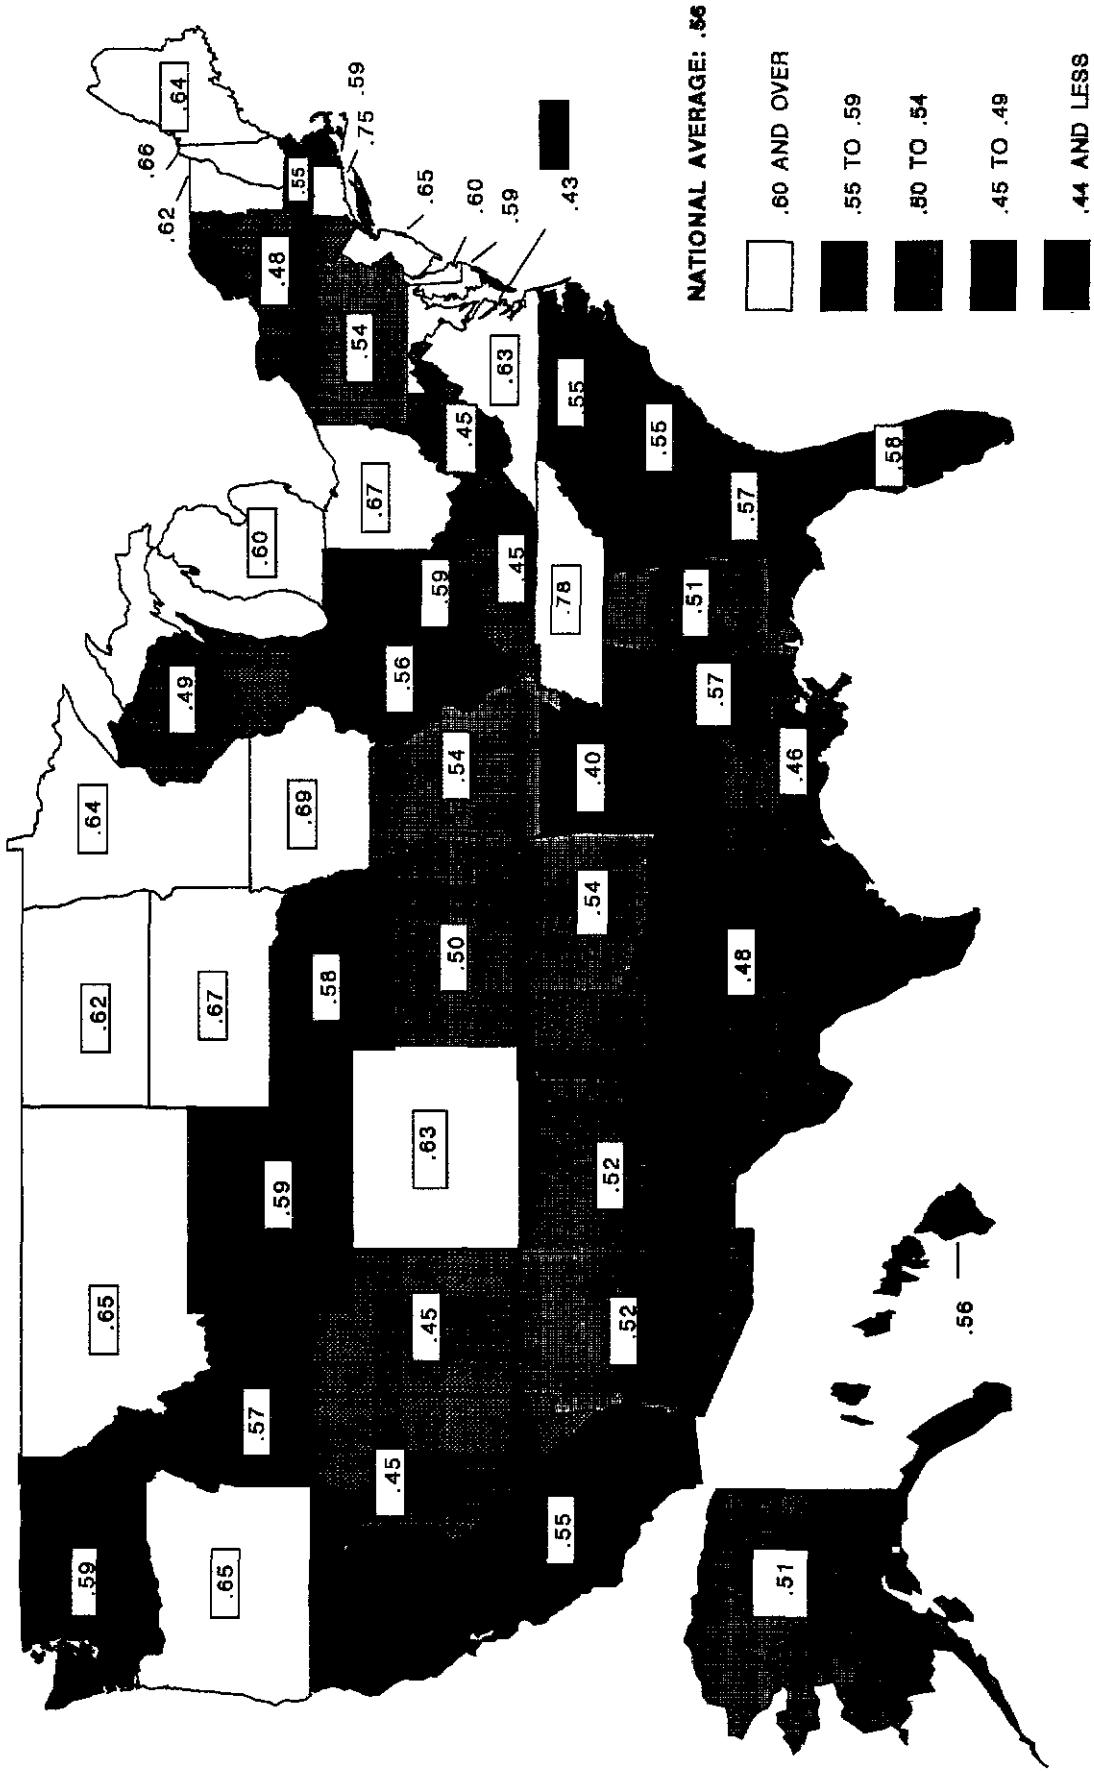

Motor-vehicle registrations are reported by major vehicle classes: automobiles, buses, trucks, and motorcycles. The truck category includes light trucks to the extent they can be identified and separated from automobiles. Data on trucks, buses, trailers, and semitrailers are given in tables MV-9, MV-10, and MV-11, respectively. Although the detail of motor-vehicle data has improved in recent years, it is not yet possible to obtain from all States separate data on single-unit trucks and combinations. Some States provide data for light trucks and truck tractors, but for many States, the FHWA estimates this information using other data sources, such as the Truck Inventory and Use Survey conducted by the Bureau of the Census. Table MV-9 contains a light truck column that includes pickup trucks, panel trucks, and delivery vans generally of 10,000 pounds or less gross vehicle weight.

Registrations of publicly owned motor vehicles are reported in table MV-7.

REGISTRATION TAXES AND FEES

Taxes and fees connected with State motor-vehicle registrations and special taxes on motor carriers are given in table MV-2, and the disposition of these taxes is given in table MV-3. These tables can be found in the highway finance section. The diversity of taxes and fees collected has made it necessary to group them into broad general classes, the most important being registration fees. The amounts shown are those collected solely as highway-user revenues and do not include any amounts, such as personal property levies, that are derived from taxes other than those related to motor-vehicle ownership and operation. (Although portions of these revenues are later used in some States for nonhighway purposes, it is the source rather than the expenditure of the revenues that has determined their inclusion here.) Motor-vehicle registration fee schedules (table MV-103) and administrative provisions governing the disposition of State motor-vehicle and motor-carrier receipts (table MV-106) appear in a separate FHWA publication entitled Highway Taxes and Fees, How They Are Collected and Distributed. A comprehensive comparison of taxes and fees among the States for 14 selected vehicles can be found in the separate FHWA publication entitled Road-User and Property Taxes on Selected Vehicles.

<sup>1</sup> Vehicles of the civilian branches of the Federal government are given in this table. Vehicles of the military services are not included. Distribution by State is estimated by the Federal Highway Administration. This information compiled chiefly from reports of State authorities. It includes vehicles in many classes.

The opposite and parallel vehicles. For the States not reporting separately from private and commercial vehicles and those reporting unsegregated totals only, classification by vehicle type has been approximated on the basis of other available data or estimated.

<sup>3</sup> The State reported motor-vehicle registration data for 1993 do not include transfer tags or registrations.

<sup>1</sup> The registrations given in this table are as reported by the States in most instances, but have been supplemented in some cases by estimates based on data from other sources.

<sup>3</sup> The figures in these columns may vary substantially from the numbers shown for prior years. This results from new information, such as the 1992 Census of Transportation Truck Inventory and Use Survey, and changes in the estimating procedures, and is not because of substantial vehicle registration changes during 1993. Where data reported by the States were incomplete for these vehicles, estimates were made by the Federal Highway Administration. Truck-tractors may include some large trucks used regularly in combination with full trailers. Light trucks includes pickups, panel, and delivery vans generally of 10,000 pounds or less gross vehicle weight.

<sup>5</sup> Although Georgia and Mississippi have a special "Farm" classification, their registration reports do not show a complete segregation of farm trucks from private carriers.

<sup>2</sup> This column consists primarily of publicly owned school buses but includes a few privately owned school, institutional, and industrial buses registered free or at a reduced rate. Municipally owned transit buses are included with commercial buses. This information, compiled chiefly from reports of State authorities is incomplete in many cases.

<sup>3</sup> In some instances church, industrial and other private buses are included here; and in other instances privately-owned school buses could not be segregated from commercial buses, and are included with the latter.

<sup>4</sup> The State reported motor-vehicle registration data for 1993 do not include transfer tags or reregistrations.

<sup>4</sup> Mobile homes and house trailers are shown in this column for States which require them to be registered and are able to segregate them from other trailers. In States where this classification is not available, house trailers are included with light car trailers.

<sup>5</sup> The State reported motor-vehicle registration data for 1993 do not include transfer tags or reregistrations.
